

And The 2008 Winner Is...

In 2008, Women's Recovery Services (WRS) held a rare event to win an incredibly light-weight (14.8 pounds!) carbon fiber road bike that retailed for $5300.00. We were happy to report that John Prouty, a strong supporter of WRS and annual contributor & rider in our Sea to Sierra cycling event, was the proud winner of the bike. John is now regularly riding his IBIS Silk SL carbon fiber road bike. Here is what John had to say to Scot Nicol at IBIS Cycles after picking up his new bike.

Scot,

I picked up the bike on Saturday from Steve Michel at West County Revolution Bike Shop and I tell you, it is absolutely fantastic. You were right about waiting for the new Shimano components. The red is beautiful, makes me look like I'm going faster than I am, which I need right now!

You guys have put together one unbelievable ride, I took it out for a short jump up to Jimtown on Sunday and was blown away at how responsive it was, both in power transfer, jumps like a cat when I press down on the pedals, and maneuverability, stable and quick going through corners and downhill. WHAT A BIKE!!!

Thanks so much again for your support of WRS! I'm trying to talk Steve into doing the Sea to Sierra ride next year, if we can talk you into it and you have time, we'd love to have you! (Sept 11-13)

Thanks again,

John

Thanks again John for supporting Women's Recovery Services; all of us at WRS hope you are enjoying your new bike. We're also looking forward to seeing you ride it in the 2009 Sea to Sierra cycling event (September 11-13, 2009).

Thanks also to IBIS Cycles, West County Revolution, and the many others who helped to support this event by volunteering time and/or donating to WRS.
